New Public Seating Installed on Ala Wai Boulevard

In partnership with the City and County of Honolulu, the WBID crew assisted with the removal of traditional benches, which were replaced with new seating that discourages users from lying down.

Message from President and Executive Director: Jennifer Nakayama says Aloha!

After leading the WBID since 2017, Jennifer Nakayama will be relocating with her family to the mainland in January 2023.

"It has been the most rewarding privilege and honor in my career to serve the WBID Board of Directors, members, and our Waikiki community of businesses, residents, and tourists alike.

Waikiki is the greatest example of all that is exceptional in public-private partnerships... genuine aloha hospitality, with an emphasis on clean and safe public spaces.

My heart is forever tied to Hawaii and I am truly grateful that the WBID has accomplished so much and been a pivotal part of my life."

Following her departure, David Willard will serve as VP and Interim Executive Director.
