

State of Waikiki "Clean and Safe"

Provided to you by:
WAIKIKI BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT ASSOCIATION (WBIDA)

Kuhio Beach Park, Activation of Arbor Pavilion

In a collaboration with the City & County of Honolulu, one of the four beach park pavilions has been recently activated with additional lighting and a new Biki station. A roving Aloha Ambassador is also on patrol in the vicinity, during key times of the day. Thanks to the Mayor's office, DPR, DFM, DES, and HPD for making this a priority.

Helping the Non-Humans Too!

Not only are the Aloha Ambassadors keeping Waikiki clean and safe for businesses, residents, and tourists, but for our feathered friends as well.

"Thankful for the Ambassadors doing what they do, providing a clean and safe environment for residents, visitors and wildlife alike. Pictured here are our ambassadors handing off two indigenous Shearwater adolescents that were found injured on the ground in the district to a Hawaii Marine Response officer."

- Robert Lee, WBIDA Operations Manager
